

Juno-award winning vocalist, Sienna Dahlen was born in the pristine Kootenays and raised in the gusty dusty Peace River region of northern British Columbia. Her upbringing and influences whirl like vintage jukebox singles rooted in everything from the Beatles to Joni Mitchell to Bill Frisell. Passionately paving her own path, Dahlen's music and sound scale the outskirts of folk and jazz while sometimes spanning the spatial avant-garde, all the while showering her listeners with a rhapsody of sonic love.
